GLENVIEW

THIS WEEK

The median single family home price in GLENVIEW this week is $649,450. The 488 homes have been on the market for an average of 242 days.

Inventory and days-on-market are climbing, while the Market Action Index has been flat recently. The trends point to a weakening market.

QUARTILES

To get a tightly targeted understanding of homes in the market, we break each locale into quartiles. Each quartile is 25% of the homes listed.

Most expensive 25% of homes

Upper-middle 25% of homes

Lower-middle 25% of homes

Least expensive 25% of homes

We'll refer to the quartiles in the trend graphs below.

PRICE

The market seems to have paused around this plateau. The Market Action Index is a good leading indicator for the durability of this trend.

QUARTILE PRICES

Often, we find insights by watching pricing trends within the quartile segments.

Prices have settled at a price plateau across the board. Prices in all four quartiles are basically mixed. Look for a persistent shift (up or down) in the Market Action Index before prices move from these current levels.

PRICE AND VALUE

While prices have been basically flat, the price per square foot has been heading downward. While not a sign of broad strength in a market, larger homes are coming more available and buyers are tending to get more home for their money.

INVENTORY

Inventory has been climbing lately. Note that rising inventory alone does not signal a weakening market. Look to the Market Action Index and Days on Market trends to gauge whether buyer interest is keeping up with available supply.

Residential house prices are a function of supply and demand, and market conditions can be characterized by analyzing those factors. Watch this index for sustained changes: if the index falls into the Buyer's Market zone for a long period, prices are likely in for a downward correction.

The Market Action Index (MAI) illustrates the balance between supply and demand using a statistical function of the current rate of sale versus current inventory.

An MAI value greater than 30 typically indicates a "Seller's Market" (a.k.a. "Hot Market") because demand is high enough to quickly gobble up available supply. A hot market will typically cause prices to rise. MAI values below 30 indicate a "Buyer's Market" (a.k.a. "Cold Market") where the inventory of already-listed homes is sufficient to last several months at the current rate of sales. A cold market will typically cause prices to fall.

MARKET ACTION INDEX

The GLENVIEW market is currently quite strongly in the Buyer's Market zone (below 30). The 90-day Market Action Index stands at 9. With several months of inventory available at the current sales rate, buyers should find ample choice.

The market has shown some evidence of slowing recently. Both prices and inventory levels are relatively unchanged in recent weeks. Watch the Market Action Index for changes as it can be a leading indicator for price changes.

The quartiles can help you answer the question, "How hot is the market for homes in my price range?"

MARKET ACTION

Not surprisingly given the overall Market Action Index, all quartiles are in the Buyer's Market zone with several months of inventory given the current rate of demand for homes in the quartile. Watch the quartile for changes before the overall market shifts. Often one end of the market (e.g. the low end) will improve and signal a strengthening market before the whole group changes.

DAYS ON MARKET (DOM)

The properties have been on the market for an average of 242 days. Half of the listings have come newly on the market in the past 206 or so days.

DOM PER QUARTILE

It is not uncommon for the higher priced homes in an area to take longer to sell than those in the lower quartiles.

THIS WEEK

The median single family home price in GLENVIEW 60026 this week is $869,000.

The Market Action Index has been climbing lately while days-on-market are trending down, these point to a positive near-term outlook for the market.

PRICE

We continue to see prices in this zip code bouncing around this plateau. Look for a persistent up-shift in the Market Action Index before we see prices move from these levels.

PRICE PER QUARTILE

In the quartile market segments, we see pricing across most of this zip code relatively strong recently. While Quartile 3 is basically flat, all other segments are in an up trend period. Unless the Market Action Index has a persistent downward shift, expect that Quartile 3 will assume a similar trend with the other groups.
